

for six strings (six of the same instrument)
Erik Carlson
2018

A string is chosen on which all players will play for the entire piece.

A series of phrases:

for each phrase, a pitch is randomly selected (a new pitch for each phrase)
within the bottom 2 octaves of the chosen string.
This is the final pitch for each player in that phrase.

A duration for each phrase is randomly selected between 15 and 180 seconds.

Each player randomly selects a starting pitch
within the bottom 2 octaves of the chosen string.

For the duration of the phrase, each player glissandos
from their individually-chosen starting pitches to the unison group ending pitch.

Between each phrase, a pause of several seconds.

All choices should be made beforehand and not during the performance.

Play gently but with a healthy tone.
Blend.

Play as many phrases as desired.
