

An Installation.

A microphone is placed anywhere (probably outside).

A buffer of the last 24 hours of recorded sound is constantly updated.

From this buffer, random 1-second units of sound are selected and played in a continuous stream at another location (or online, so anyone can listen).

-Erik Carlson, 2013