

for piano and string sextet
Erik Carlson
2013

Players create their own score.

A series of phrases.

Each phrase is between 60 and 120 seconds long (randomly decided).

All pitches occur in the range G#3 - G#4.

Each phrase starts with the string players beginning together on a randomly chosen note within the piece range (each player on their own pitch).

After two seconds, the piano enters on a randomly-chosen pitch (in the piece range).

For the remaining duration of the phrase, each string player moves their pitch towards the piano pitch,

one microtone at a time,

each pitch lasting for a duration freely chosen by each player (though at least a few seconds).

If a string player reaches the piano pitch, they sustain that pitch until the end of the phrase.

Always a soft, gentle sound, though the piano notes can have some weight.

A several-second pause between each phrase.

Play as many phrases as desired.